

You can make the Snow Goose Festival fly!

Now in its nineteenth year, the Snow Goose Festival of the Pacific Flyway has grown to become one of the top birding festivals in the United States. From being a two-day festival with 12 field trips and 6 workshops to a five-day action-packed and educational event with over 70 activities to choose from. The Festival celebrates the remarkable journey of millions of waterfowl and raptors along the Pacific Flyway, which call the Northern Sacramento Valley their home during the winter months.

This coming year's keynote speaker at our "Gathering of Wings" banquet and silent auction, Jon L. Dunn, is the chief consultant of all seven editions of the National Geographic Field Guide to the Birds of North America, and a birding tour leader for more than 30 years. So this year's festival promises to see a record number of out-of-town visitors who will join us to enjoy a major force and world famous author in North American birding.

Our commitment to creating an opportunity for education, nature and wildlife enjoyment and birding appreciation has brought many organizations, businesses, non-profits, federal and state agencies, partners, and volunteers together to make this festival a memorable and fun event. This major accomplishment would not have been possible without the support of sponsors.

You are an important presence in our community, and it is our sincere hope that you will join us and become a sponsor. Your contribution in many ways will keep this wonderful community event affordable for all and bring quality outdoor experiences to those who enjoy our natural world.
